WE NOMINATE

Seven able Princetonians—Jessica Serena Bartlett, Constance Rice Brook, Coralie Tillis Cain, Ruth Evans Griggs, Mary Lanahan Murray, Louise Beula Osgood and Jeanne Murray Wright—who together are ringing down the curtain on some 230 years of service to Princeton and to the literally 100's of citizens whose understanding will help shape the Princeton of tomorrow. Over the past several decades, this septette, one of whom has been in the Borough Schools for 40 years and another for 39, has personified dedication to "the most responsible, the least advertised, the worst paid and the most richly rewarded profession in the world"—teaching.

At a time when the nation can hardly afford to release teachers of demonstrated capacity, these seven radiate the diversity that is the strength of American public education. Mrs. Brook and Mrs. Griggs have helped make the Nassau Street Elementary School all that it is, while the Misses Bartlett, Osgood and Wright have contributed in large measure to the ongoing development of Princeton High School. Mrs. Murray has bridged the mathematics gap between junior and senior high school and Mrs. Cain has divided her career into two parts, the younger grades and since 1948 the Home Economics Program in the Witherspoon School.

"Highly creative," a term most often reserved for higher mathematics and the fine arts, is now a ranking Borough school official describes the work Mrs. Cain, Florida-born and a Rutgers alumna, has carried forward at Witherspoon. In the same sense, Miss Osgood, Michigan-reared and educated, is known for her emphasis on compositions and on a working-knowledge of the classics in English and American literature. Mrs.

Murray, first appointed to the Borough School System in 1923 and wife of Princeton's Postmaster, has been called a "beloved driver" by former students who during their college years have thanked her for her insistence on excellence.

Miss Wright, daughter of an eminent Princeton physician and a member of the PHS Class of 1915, started out as a classicist and continued her association with "the love of her life, Cicero" until she became Assistant Principal of the High School in 1958. Dean of Girls for the past 28 years, she is a gifted administrator who senses that "there are never two days quite alike." As director of the High School's far-reaching program in social studies, Miss Bartlett, holding degrees from Chicago and Columbia, has seen the school's enrollment mushroom from 500 in 1930 to 1500-plus in the recently concluded year.

Few can think of the Nassau Street School without mentioning Mrs. Griggs and Mrs. Brook. The former, a lifelong resident of New Jersey, whose tenure stretches back to 1920, will long be remembered as a long-working reading specialist and as the creator—with her fellow teachers—of the annually successful Christmas Operetta, Head of the Borough's Primary Department, and in recent years director of a popular summer day camp. Mrs. Brook has succeeded in relating camping and farm-life experiences for her first-grade class to the prescribed routine of reading, riting and 'rithmetic.

For distinguished achievement far above, and beyond, the call of duty; for looking upon education as a "many-ringed circus" in which teachers are constantly facing the demands of change and challenge; for their contributions to this community's continued well-being; these seven are our nominees for

IT HURTS TO GROW
Township Residents Discover. A sharp exchange of remarks between Township Committee members and Township residents at Monday night's Committee meeting, and another sharp exchange last Thursday night between Township Planning Board members and Township residents, point up a basic fact of life in the Princeton of 1960: it hurts to shed the old skin and grow a new one. The issues: a new $2,000 sewer along Route 1 between Galbreath Drive East and Galbreath Drive West; and the "sidewalk master plan" proposed by the Planning Board.

The objectors: residents of Rosedale Road who do not want the sewer; and scattered householders all over the Township who do not want the sidewalks. Caught in the middle: Philip Baltzer, Rosedale Road, whose defective septic system is thought by his neighbors to be the sole reason the Township wants to lay a sewer; Herbert Frank, who has been told by the Township Board of Health that he cannot move into his new house on Rosedale unless there is a sewer for him to connect into.

About Sewers. At Monday meeting, William H. Sword, Rosedale Road, protested what he called "the lack of continuity" in Township policy over the years. "When we built our houses in 1955," he told Committee, "we tried everything we could think of to get a sewer, but Committee said the trunk line would be overloaded and we were required to build septic systems, even though we didn't want them. Now you come along and try to force a sewer on us when we don't need it. We think it is very unfair."

Committeeman John F. Mount told Mr. Sword that, in 1955, Township Committee had no choice but to follow the recommendations of the Joint Sewer Operating Committee, but that times had changed in five years. "Our general policy now is to extend sewer lines to as many areas of the Township as possible," Mr. Mount explained. "Septic systems become useless in a short time here because of the rock strata and the kind of soil we've got. Nobody realized until recently how bad the sewer situation was; actually, sewers should have been laid in '55."

Mr. Baltzer said he thought it was unfair to use his defective system as a lever to introduce the Rosedale Road sewer question, but Committeeman William Marvel assured him that his problem was not the cause.

"At some point in time, a sewer must be laid," Mr. Marvel said. "Right now, one septic system has gone bad. Maybe two will go bad in the next year. That's the way things have been all over the Township. The question is: at what point do we say 'we've got to build a sewer'?"

Changing Policies. Mr. Mount pointed out that the Township has adopted many policies in the past which it does not follow now, and he cited new zoning regulations which have increased lot sizes, regulations requiring wider streets and so on.

"Some people will always be hurt," Mr. Mount said. "This is a growing community and we must learn by experience."

James Fitzpatrick, another Rosedale Road resident, said that, although he opposed the sewer line because there seemed to be only one defective private system, he was nevertheless surprised to learn, upon moving to Princeton from Virginia, that the Township does not have a complete sewer system. He drew appreciative laughter with the remark:

"We would never allow that kind of thing to happen in the south."

Mr. Mount, who presided in the absence of Mayor R. Kenneth Fairman while on military duty, warned speakers on two occasions not to blame Mrs. Marcelle Farley, Township Health Officer, for findings made on individual septic systems. "Mrs. Farley acts on the orders of the Township Board of Health," he reminded the audience. "She is a Township employee and does not form policy."

After the lengthy and heated hearing, the three Committeemen present (Committeeman Stanley C. Smoyer was also absent), vote 2-1 to table the Rosedale sewer ordinance so that additional information could be obtained from the Board of Health and possibly from geologists. Committeeman Marvel voted "no," commenting, "We have all the information we need. If we're ever going to get jobs done around

This Is Princeton

this town, we can't spend too much time on just one."

About Sidewalks. "I moved to Princeton because I wanted to live in a country atmosphere.
Sidewalks are expensive, unsightly, unnecessary in most cases and besides, I'll have 300 feet of them to shovel when it snows."

That was the essence of the comments made Thursday night by about 50 Township householders who appeared before the Planning Board to protest the "sidewalk master plan" proposed by the Board and by Township Committee.

One of the most vocal was Louis
R. Gerber, 255 Edgerstone, former Township magistrate, who accused the Planning Board of
"saddling the taxpayers with projects," and stated, to loud applause and approving whistles,
"with sidewalks and sewers, you'll make it prohibitive for people to own properties and live in Princeton."

Eugene W. Beste, 185 Shady Brook Lane, said he was one of "those embattled taxpayers," but that he was willing to pay his share of the Township's 50 percent of sidewalk cost as a taxpayer even though he had already paid the entire cost for his own sidewalk. (Half the cost of the new sidewalks would probably be borne by property owners, the other half by the Township.)

Nathan Hower, presiding in the absence of Planning Board chairman Samuel Frothingham, reminded the audience that "the general public welfare and public safety are involved, in addition to your own properties."

"The Planning Board thinks there is need for sidewalks in these areas within a one mile radius of the university," Mr.
Hower said. "The community is growing and we must plan for the future. Some of you say that there are only two children on your block who would use sidewalks, but who about tomorrow?"

In a final remark, which would have been just as apropos at the conclusion of the sewer hearing, Mr. Hower said, "After all, we don't guarantee the town will remain as it was when you first moved here."

NEXT STOP: EUROPE

Princetonian Solos Across Ocean. "Well, it seemed like the easiest way of getting our plane from Princeton to Italy." That's the explanation given by Mrs. Dietrich Jenny of her husband's recent solo flight across the Atlantic Ocean in the family Piper Apache.

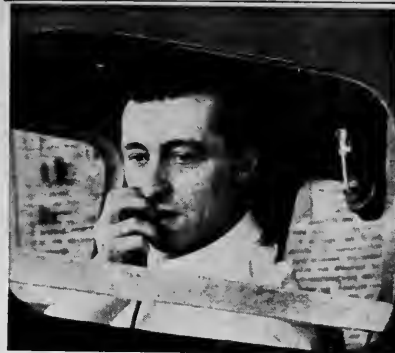

Mr. Jenny took off from Princeton Airport on Memorial Day, cleared idyllic customs, and then set out for Bermuda, 800 nautical miles away. He was flying the five-seat, two-engine Apache he had bought in March, a plane which he had converted into a miniature commercial airliner, with automatic pilot, navigational radio, oxygen, de-icers, the most advanced electronic equipment and, of course, the newest and most complete safety devices.

Four of the five seats had been removed and shipped to Italy, and the space filled with extra gas tanks. Normally, a Piper Apache has a range of 1,000 miles and Mr. Jenny's route lay across 3,500 nautical miles (4,000 statute miles) of South Atlantic Ocean.

After a day in Bermuda, he took off again on the longest part of his journey—the 1,900 miles over the ocean between Bermuda and Santa Maria airfield in the Azores. His equipment was functioning smoothly, he had not yet begun to feel fatigue, and he had the assurance of British authorities that he would pick up a navigational radio signal from a weather ship between Bermuda and Santa Maria.

But the signal was never transmitted. The Atlantic lay blankly and silently before him, and Mr. Jenny was forced to fly three-quarters of the distance between Bermuda and the Azores by dead reckoning—flying solely on his instruments and on his own unceasing attention to time, speed and distance and his hope that wind currents would not shift without his knowledge.

The 1900 mile trip took 17 hours. There was a lot of instrument weather," and just before the

"PILOT TO PILOT: ARE YOU AWAKE?" Dietrich Jenny, 5 Greenhelm, piloted his Piper Apache (which the family has named "Gachise") on a solo voyage across the Atlantic earlier this month. A crowd of pilots from all over New Jersey came to his Princeton Airport take-off to wish him well, and to inspect the advanced equipment. Mr. Jenny had had installed in his plane. (In this picture, Mr. Jenny is seated in another plane, which he owned before buying the Apache.)

Azores, there was ice. Mr. Jenny had been awake for 17 hours with no one to talk to, and with only his sense of adventure and his attention to his instruments to keep him awake.

Safely down in Santa Maria, he took a break to rest. But the excitement of his trip and the knowledge that he was almost on the continent made him eager to take off again. He left for Lisbon only five hours after his arrival in the Azores. From Lisbon, he flew to Switzerland (via over the Pyrenees and the Alps), making his final landing on a little-used jet field outside Zurich on Friday, June 3.

Not By Bread Alone. For food, Mr. Jenny had a collection of chocolate bars, cookies and nourishment pills which Mrs. Jenny had packed into the new attaché case she gave him as a parting gift. His wife also gave him a parking-meter timer designed to wake him with a loud buzzer after he had napped for 15 minutes. But the unexpected navigational problems created by the failure of the weather ship served to keep him more than awake and the timer was never used.

Mr. Jenny has been flying for about 12 years and he has over 1,500 hours to his credit. He practiced for his Atlantic flight with nonstop flights over land, and he has made innumerable business and vacation flights to the Pacific coast, Canada, Florida and so on, many of them with his wife, mother and the Jenny's child.

Thomas Sweeney, Princeton pilot hobbyist and friend of Mr. Jenny regards the flight as a real feat, particularly of navigational skill. Mr. Sweeney points out that, as an experienced scientist (Mr. Jenny is a physicist), the pilot was intimately familiar with his complex electronic equipment and thoroughly adept in its manipulation.

Formerly with RCA, Mr. Jenny is now associated in a management capacity with a firm in northern Italy. He expects to be abroad about two years.

SUPERINTENDENT NAMED
To Head Borough Schools. Dr. Chester R. Stroup has been named by the Borough Board of Education to succeed B. Woodhull Davis as Superintendent of Schools. Mr. Davis, who has held the post since 1932, will step down as of September 1.

The Board approved the appointment at its final meeting of the year, acting on the recommendation of the Committee on Instruction. The committee, which was actually the whole Board sitting as a committee under the chairmanship of Dean Jeremiah Ebner, also recommended that Mr. Davis be continued as a consultant until the end of the calendar year 1960.

The retiring Superintendent of Schools became principal of the High School over 31 years ago, when only 1000 students were enrolled, including the seventh and eighth grades. He assumed his present position just as the High School's original building was completed and had directed the rehabilitation of the Witherspoon Street School, the additions to the Nassau Street School and the enlargement of the High School in 1954.

Mr. Davis' successor joined the Borough school system as principal of the Nassau Street School in 1946, and took on the additional office of assistant superintendent in 1953. He was made full-time assistant superintendent last year. Mr. Stroup holds degrees from West Chester State College and Columbia University, and just obtained his Doctor of Education.—Continued on Page 4

For King's Court, Borough Council renewed the liquor license it recently granted to King's Court after a brief public hearing Tuesday night. The hearing became necessary when Renwick's filed a written objection to the renewal, but lost its point when neither the owner of Renwick's nor his attorney appeared at the hearing.

Noting for the renewal were councilmen Alfred B. Sorocan, John B. Redding and William H. Walker. Dan D. Coyle, who originally opposed granting the license to King's Court, abstained, while Richard A. Lester and Richard W. Colman were absent. The count was identical on a subsequent resolution to permit King's Court to expand its licensed area to the front of 28-30 Witherspoon Street.

Renwick's objection, as originally presented, claimed that the King's Court license should not be renewed because it was issued contrary to Alcohol Beverage Control procedure and because Mayor and Council had exceeded their authority in the issuance. An appeal is pending, and Renwick's will have a second chance to present its case at the appeal, scheduled for July 14 in Newark.

Stevenson Backers . . .

Will We Take This Lying Down?

On June 16 the New York Times printed on its front page a story representing that a majority of the New Jersey delegates to the Democratic convention had promised votes to Kennedy. The next day the Times buried denial of the story by Gov. Meyner, chairman of the delegation, on page 41. This is typical. The ever growing number of Stevenson supporters is not fully represented by the delegates and is misrepresented in the papers.

Now more than ever America needs a statesman who can not only lead this country decisively but who can rebuild our position of leadership in the world. We need Stevenson for President. He can win, if nominated. We must make sure he is.

What You Can Do: It is crucial that Gov. Meyner retain full control of the N. J. Delegation. Write or wire him at once, even if you have already signed a petition. Tell him you are for Stevenson for President . . . and why. This will give him the evidence he needs. Send it to:

Gov. Robert B. Meyner

State House, Trenton, N. J.

Do it now. This is your last chance.

News Of The THEATRES

PLAYERS OPEN

This Saturday, when the University Players opens the summer season Saturday with "Epitaph for George Dillon," playgoers will be able to extend their schedule each week to include Sunday night. Murray Theatre will be closed Mondays, only for the next eight weeks, and "Dillon" will run nightly through July 3, except for Monday the 27th.

"Epitaph for George Dillon," written by John Osborne, was one of the most controversial plays of the season when it appeared on Broadway. "... a bitter theatre, done with deadly skill," was the judgment of the World Telegram and Sun. The play is not an epitaph in the usual sense because George Dillon is physically alive throughout the play. The title, refers, rather, to the death of his emotional and moral life.

The summer marks the University Players' first season as an Actors Equity company. Clifford David, who will play George Dillon, is a product of the Actors Studio who has been seen on Broadway in "Burning Bright" and "Carpenter."

Peggy Pope, who, with Mr. David, is making her first appearance with the Players, has been seen in New York in "Career," "Viva Madison Avenue" and "Affairs of Anatoli." She has also appeared on television.

Peggy Allison, who is well-known to Princeton audiences, has been in Players' productions of "As You Like It," "Heartbreak House" and "Major Barbara." David Sawyer, who played last year's "Waiting for Godot" and Chekov's "The Marriage Proposal," will direct this opening production.

Tickets and additional information may be obtained by writing to The University Players, Murray Theatre, or calling WA 4-3539.

COMEDY TO OPEN

"Redhead" at Lambertville. The story of a mousy brunette who changes the color of her hair, and as a result her whole life is the basis of the next musical comedy billed at Lambertville's Music Circus. "Redhead," which ran on Broadway for two seasons, will open on Tuesday for a two-week engagement.

June Ericson has the title role, with Art Matthews, who played the male lead in "Leave it to Jane" in New York, starring opposite her. Miss Ericson, who has just finished two months at the Blue Angel in New York, is cast in the role of Essie Whimple, whose career as a newly-made redhead leads to a wax museum, a vaudeville stage, the back streets of London, a pub and even a jail cell.

"The World of Suzie Wong," starring Romi Yamada, is currently at the Music Circus. It will run through Sunday. Monday will inaugurate the first of a summer series of Jazz Specials at Lambertville. Dave Brubeck and his Quartet will play a one-night stand, following their return from a European tour which took them behind the Iron Curtain.

Sponsored by the U. S. Department of State, the tour took the Brubeck unit into portions of Europe, as well as the middle East where the inhabitants had never before heard a live jazz performance. Brubeck will be followed on subsequent Monday nights by such jazz groups as the Ahmad Jamal Trio, George Shearing, Bobby Hackett, the Dukes of Dixieland and J. J. Johnson.

OFFER ARMCHAIR TRAVEL

In Kiwanis Lecture Series. "The World Around Us," a film series of travel and adventure lore, will be presented at McCarter Theatre next fall by The Princeton Kiwanis Club.

The series of three lecture-films will begin on October 4 with Lowell Thomas, Jr., who will show his "Follow the North Star," the product of two major expeditions to Alaska, the Arctic Basin and the North Pole.

The second speaker will be Quentin Keynes, who will appear on November 1. The great-grandson of Charles Darwin, Mr. Keynes was inspired by his ancestor's voyages to make several journeys of his own to the remote islands of the Indian Ocean and to unexplored areas of Africa. For his McCarter appearance he will show his film, "Journey to the Skeleton Coast." Captain Irving Johnson will close the series on December 13 with his film, "Trade Wind Islands," an account of a voyage through the South Seas and the Islands of the Indian Ocean.

Advance sale of tickets will open this week at McCarter Theatre and the University Store. This year, there will be specially-priced single tickets and series tickets for school children. —Continued on Page 6

News Of The Theatres

THE PLAYHOUSE

The Mountain Road (June 22-23) is the latest installment in the Playhouse's campaign to convince us that war is hell, and it does its job effectively. If at too great length, James Stewart is excellent in his usual stylized way as the leader of a combat group which is doing demolition work to slow the advances of pursuing Japanese forces in northern China during World War II.

Along the way, Stewart is offered the services of a Chinese officer (Frank Silvera) and a feminine refugee (Lisa Lutz). He accepts the former gladly, and is obligated to tote Miss Lu along because of local politics. The harassed team moves slowly doing its work despite opposition from local citizens, who understandably have certain objections against the demolition of their villages, and various illnesses and untimely deaths. The brutalizing of Stewart's personality is shown in his angry action against some mauling Japanese and his personal tragedy is his inability to establish a lasting relationship with Miss Lu under the terrific pressures of war.

The film is laid in several spots and the musical score is unsatisfactory, but the basic pathos of the situation and Stewart's competent performance give it a good deal of power. The technique of treating a cosmic theme in a very limited situation is explored with great success. Alfred Hayes adapted the story from the novel by Theodore White.

Crack in the Mirror (June 26-28) demonstrates that a complicated, six-character plot when done by only three players is just that much more complicated but not necessarily better. Orson Welles, Juliette Greco and Bradford Dillman appear in dual roles to supply an overdose of irony. Darryl F. Zanuck's latest attempt to strip bare some of life's fundamental passions has each of the principal actors portraying both a rich and a poor person. All are involved in murder, envy and deceit; all follow true to the script-writer's code and get what they deserve. It ends up in a climactic courtroom scene in which the six meet in one way or another. The Cinemascope production was directed by Richard Fleischer and written by Mark Canfield.

The Apartment (June 29 - July 5) is one of those light-but-serious affairs blessed with a spicy script and top performers. From an adult standpoint, the dialogue and situations are near-farcical, while

ADVERTISING VOLUME is based on results. That's why TOWN TOPICS carries more classified advertising each week in the year than all other Princeton papers combined.

DOUBLE DUTY: Orson Welles who returns to the Playhouse screen this week to play a dual role in "Crack in the Mirror."

both comedy and pathos are well portrayed by Jack Lemmon, Shirley MacLaine and Fred MacMurray.

True to its name, the plot revolves around an apartment, inhabited by Lemmon but loaned out to his insurance company bosses for activities which are definitely outside the line of business. Enter Miss MacLaine, elevator operator in the apartment house, and MacMurray, Lemmon's boss who uses the apartment for his extra-marital activities, and the situation is set.

THE GARDEN

Guns of the Timberland (June 22-23) is an unsuccessful attempt to beef-up a second-rate western featuring Alan Ladd and Jeanne Crain with a few songs by a modern recording star, Frankie Avalon. The plot, which could not have overtaxed novelist Louis L'Amour, concerns a group of ranchers fighting to keep a logging crew from stripping a mountainside of trees and thus ruining the water supply necessary for cattle.

Besides Miss Crain, whose assets are obvious, and Avalon, who is given time out from being a ranch hand to sing a few songs, the film has the advantage of being in technicolor. In fact, the scenes of huge trees toppling are to be preferred to Ladd's lights or Avalon's songs.

Gilbert Roland provides what every western must have, a villain, and Alan Ladd's daughter, Alane Ladd, also makes an appearance. Aaron Spelling produced the screenplay he wrote with Joseph Petracca, Robert D. Webb directed.

IT'S NEW To Us

B. H. COMES TO TOWN
In Silk and Fine Linen, B. H. Wragge, whose simple little dresses (into which he sews the year of manufacture, the stinker) are just about the finest investment any woman can make in style and quality, (and "investment" is the word, as you know if you've seen price tags). Well, as we were saying, B.H. Wragge has sent to 18th Century Bouquet on Route 206, a collection of his summer dresses, and you'll find his works holding "open house" at this shop from now on.

Probably the most dazzling piece is a Dupioni silk linen sheath in orange red or white, designed as simply as a pencil stroke, with gentle wide neckline, no sleeves and an optional belt. A white linen sheath is somewhat higher in style, with shoestring straps, a deep "U" front and back and half an inch of self piping around the bodice. With a tan —

Five-inch slices of limes and oranges have been arranged against the white silk of a round-necked dress. Actually, the limes look more like avocados, so far as color goes, and the silk mesh is definitely avocado.

The same print has been used in an overblouse with a very wide V-neck framed by a loose collar. An over or under blouse in white linen ("Trade Winds" linen, B. H. calls it), has a blunted V neck, can sleeves and a zipper all the way down the back.

Sand dollars, scallops, whelks, a starfish, a gull and a decoy, done in a life-size black pointillist print on white provide the sparkle for a seaside dress. This one looks like fine pima, but is actually rayon. Permanent accordion pleats squeeze the seashells for six inches below the waist, then release into a soft, full skirt. The same treatment has been used to make a yoke which fans down from a wide neckband.

"Summer Shadows" is a Cailey and Lord cotton plaid in palest shades of beige. A soft tangerine belt brings a touch of light to the shadow.

Mixed in with all these classics, B.H. has a hand-screened linen print overblouse with deep cuff and insouciant air. The print is a broad lime green scroll that looks like a big contour map. Skirt is straight and solid green.

You might think that anything is anti-climax after Wragge, but 18th Century's dark cottons, designed for wash-wear-travel-wash-wear, are anything but anticlimax. A darcen polyester sheer is so dark you're not sure whether its navy blue is a stained glass print or a batik. Depends on the country you're traveling in, probably.

Dolls For All Ages

Girls never really grow too old for dolls. Knowing this, Louise Bogner, who owns the Curdoddy Shop near Belle Mead on Route 206, makes lovely stuffed dolls which teenagers can drape over a pillow, or grown-up collectors can display behind a glass door.

Using only the finest fabrics (and the smallest stitches!) Mrs. Bogner has sewed and stuffed about five different dolls. There's a reversible doll which is Red Riding Hood on one side, Grandmother on the other. Red Riding Hood wears white-satin lined red cape and exquisite little clothes. Turn her end for end, and there's Grandmother, hiding under R.R.H.'s skirts. Another doll, dressed in calico with a sun-bonnet, is a replica of an old-fashioned doll, with a face embellished on unleached muslin and hair made of wool. Both these dolls are about nine inches high, $7.50.

Then there's a leggy rabbit in navy blue bib overalls and white shirt, and his sister in pink gingham, both sets of clothes sewn so beautifully that you'll want to take them off and use them for a toddler. A leggy nussy cat completes the family.

Dress has a flared skirt and raglans.

For $25, you may have a straight (or unpuffed) pleated skirt in small checks of navy, deep olive and black with a box jacket that buttons from its round collar with Spanish dubloons. Well, the buttons say "Ba-ba-a," anyway. And a sleeveless Uneek sheath in cocoa brown has a collarless jacket with an imishy back vent about an inch long. —Continued on Page 8

News Of The Theatres

Some Like It Hot (June 27-July 2), which appeared at the Playhouse just a year ago, turned out to be one of the best comedies of 1959. A wild, star-studded farce, it features Marilyn Monroe, Tony Curtis and Jack Lemmon, with smaller roles filled by Joe E. Brown, George Raft and Pat O'Brien. The entire plot involves the fact that Lemmon and Curtis find it necessary to join an all-girl band in order to escape gangland vengeance (the scene is Chicago in the 1920's), but Billy Wilder's sparkling direction has turned it into a vehicle of race humor.

The acting of the principals is fine, and Miss Monroe, as Sugar Kane, the band's vocalist, again shows her intuitive talent for light comedy. While this department holds no brief for most female impersonators, the handling of the gimmick in this film should offend no one.

"Some Like It Hot" is a series of funny scenes, the best of which is probably Wilder's hilarious reenactment of the St. Valentine's Day massacre, with George Raft leading the gunmen. The fact that this scene comes off as perfectly as it does is the highest tribute to everyone connected with this outstanding picture. Recommended.

AT NEW HOPE: Carol Bruce is in "Petticoat Fever," comedy at Bucks County Playhouse through July 2.

Pops orchestra. You get two L.P.'s with such immortal compositions as Handel's "Largo" and the Theme from Peter Gunn, and in addition you get two red beer mugs, life size, alcohol proof and ready for the foam. University Store's music department has Handel, Gunn and the mugs. The beer you work out yourself.

Downstairs in the book department, the summer hammock is out and you may purchase for light summer reading George Gallup's "The Secrets of Long Life" and Stuart Chase's "Live and Let Live: A Proposal for Americans," which strikes us as a nice dual selection.

The U. Store likes Walter Lord's "The Good Years," which the author refers to as the years after plumbing and before taxes. Harry Truman's "Mr. Citizen" ought to warm you up like a heat wave. Cary T. Grayson's "Woodrow Wilson — An Intimate Memoir" will probably not make anybody hot under the collar, but it may provide pleasant reading for people who enjoy volumes about one of Princeton's most eminent citizens.

Kingsley Amis' "New Map of Hell" is a book which, in Amis' words, "bears a strong resemblance to a series of lectures delivered by me in the spring of 1959 as part of the 1958-59 programme of the Christian Gauss Seminars in Criticism at Princeton University."

Our favorite book for summer reading is one devoted to the delights of not gardening: H. Allen Smith's "Let the Crabgrass Grow."

Italian ecche pots in three sizes (seven lachet across, on down) are made to look like glazed yellow and terra cotta bricks. The set is $6.75, but you may buy separately. The fineness of English bone china is evident in a three-piece set for $3.50: cup, saucer and plate.

The little shop has stained pine and maple pieces from Vermont, designed with a country kitchen in mind: towel rack, bread board, rolling pin rack and a small dinner bell to call the boys in from the field.

In quite another vein, you'll find Chinese lacquer bowls with white painted butterflies and leaves against the black and shining lacquer. These are shallow eight-inch bowls, $1.50 each.

Voters, Speak Up.

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:
Dear Sir,

It seems incredible that in this time of acute need for a President of the United States endowed with intelligence, some concrete proposals for improving relations among nations, and experience, the Democratic party should by-pass Adlai Stevenson. He has all these, plus humility and humor.

He might make mistakes — anybody does. But he would surely avoid those which come from stupidity, lack of experience in international affairs, or opportunism.

Perhaps if a few of us ordinary voters speak up, the delegates to the Democratic Convention will be led to nominate the best man the party has to offer.

A Driver Prefers.

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

I am releasing for publication a copy of a letter written to the commanding officer of the State Police Barracks at Princeton.

I should like to bring to your attention a traffic situation which will bring tragedy to the community.

The trucks carrying Kingston Trap Rock Quarry stone seem to think they own all the roads in this area, perfecting to stop when emerging from the Trap Rock entrances or from secondary roads, swinging into the middle of the road, failing to yield the right of way, and speeding when empty.

I have observed many near accidents and nearly had several myself.

Trusting that you will do something about this immediately, I remain, be made. The petition is signed by Mrs. Douglas Delany, Mrs. Holmes Forsyth, Mrs. H. Russell Butler Jr., Walter V. B. Roberts, Mr. Allen G. Shenstone, Mrs. Bradford B. Lodge and Mrs. Herbert S. Langfield.

The petition asks that the Fund set up an emergency reserve, so that local health and welfare organizations, which are solely supported by the Fund, need not wait two years to expand their services, as is currently the case. It is further asked that the budgets of these groups not be cut, should the Fund fail to meet its quota.

The second request is for representation of these organizations on the Fund's board of directors. A recent revision of the bylaws abolished this policy. The petitioners ask that new organizations not be admitted to the Fund if there is any duplication of service, according to the existing Fund agencies.

The fourth section of the petition requests that national health organizations be included on a rotating basis for optional gifts. Budget cuts, when necessary, would be applied to this group. No group should be included, the petition states, which has a particular religious affiliation or functions in a foreign country.

Fete Nets $20,000

The seventh annual Princeton Hospital Fete, held on June 4, earned a net profit of $20,000. It has been announced by Mrs. George A. Cluett, Jr., president of the Women's Auxiliary of the Hospital. The Auxiliary sponsors the Fete each year.

The sum is the largest ever raised by the Fete. The money will be used to air-condition the hospital's main kitchen, and to establish and maintain the hospital's new Radioisotope Laboratory, which is expected to open later in the summer.

PINE BRAE CLUB

— SPECIAL NOTICE — TO MEMBERS AND INVITED GUESTS

On Saturday, June 25, from 12:00 noon to 6:00 P.M., the huge and magnificent Pine Brae pool will be open to members and invited guests. The pool has been completed and the filling has started.

However, if a pump should break down, or one of the wells not produce the expected gallonage, we'll have to postpone it till Sunday, June 26.

This seems highly improbable, so, to those of you who have received your invitation through the mail, come on out on Saturday, bring your swim suits, and have yourself a good time.

You'll marvel at the beauty and size of the pool, as well as the other facilities being rushed for our Grand Opening on July 4.

"The establishment of a joint library is the basic action necessary to provide the means of improving public library service for the community of Princeton." This statement, agreed upon jointly and unanimously by the Board of Trustees of the Public Library and the Board's Advisory Committee, was issued this week in support of the Library referendum upon which Princeton residents will vote this fall.

Urging the passage of this referendum, the Trustees cite the first annual report of the Public Library, dated 1968, in which the Trustees of that day said, "It would be just and right that the Township should join with the Borough, by the process and to the extent of the law, and there is no doubt that this will be done with great cordiality at a suitable time."

"It has become obvious that the 'suitable time' has arrived," the Trustees said in their statement. The Board also said that it had been greatly encouraged by the unanimous approval given by both Borough Council and Township Committee to ordinances permitting the joint library referendum this fall.

COURT REPORT

Five Fined. Issued a summons for careless driving which led to a three-car accident on Washington Road last Wednesday, Robert C. Snyder, 37, of 16 Fisher Avenue was fined $15 in Borough traffic court.

ACTING MAYOR: In the absence of Mayor Raymond F. Male, Council President Richard A. Lester is acting mayor of Princeton. Mayor Male and his family are on a trip west—his first vacation of more than a week since taking office in 1958.

In other traffic cases, Collie V. Spork, 34, of 145 Witherspoon Street paid a $10 fine for driving without a license in his possession and Wayne B. Prince, 19, of Old Hightstown Road, Princeton Junction, paid $15 for operating an unregistered vehicle.

Berger, 25, of 63 College Road West, was fined $12 for making an improper turn. All pleaded guilty before Magistrate Theodore T. Tams.

In criminal court, William MacIntosh, 56, of Princeton was sentenced to 60 days in the Mercer County Workhouse for being drunk and disorderly. He was found asleep under a tree on the University campus.

CLINIC SET

For Polio Shots. Princeton Hospital's monthly polio clinic will be held next Tuesday from 4 to 5 in the hospital's outpatient department.

The dollar-a-shot clinic is part of the continuing program sponsored by the Mercer County Hospital Council, the Mercer Chapter of the National Foundation and the Mercer County Component Medical Society. Hospital authorities point out the general summertime resurgence of polio, and the fact that a full series of Salk shots is the best available means of protection.

MEETING FRIDAY

Of Thistle Lodge 220. The next meeting of Thistle Lodge 220 will be held Friday evening, June 8 in the Odd Fellows Hall, 23½ Witherspoon Street.

Grand Deputy Mrs. Jean Nimmo from Lady Cameron Lodge 58, Bloomfield, will pay her official visit. Chief Daugher Mrs. James MacDowell will conduct the business meeting, while Past Chief Daugher Mrs. Agnes Cook will be in charge of refreshments.

Question of the Week

Question: What are your plans for the summer and next fall? (Asked of 1960 Princeton High School Graduates.)
Where Asked: At PHS.

John Letton, 23 Linden Lane: I'm hoping to do some summer stock up at Lake Mahopac in New York this summer. When the summer is over, I plan to volunteer in the Air Corps to get my military obligations out of the way. After I get out, I'd like to go to college.

Jane Sommer, 72 Henry Avenue: I'm working at a hotel called The Mountaintop house in the Adirondacks this summer. I'm entering Radcliffe College in Cambridge, Mass., in the fall as a liberal arts student.

Janet Stephan, 105 Fitz-Randolph Road: This summer I'll be working on the Princeton playgrounds as an assistant supervisor. Next fall I enter Hood College in Frederick, Md., where I plan to take a liberal arts course.

Maury McGuinn, 23 Shady Brook Road, class president: I may be working as a swimming instructor this summer and if not that, then as a construction worker, as I did last summer. I plan to take a pre-law course at Villanova, which I enter in the fall.

Lynn Halby, 59 Parkside Drive: In one week, I'm going to Virginia to visit some friends and for a vacation. After that, I'm not going to do anything. I'm going to swim and eat and read and paint and sculpture. In the fall I'm going to enter the Rhode Island School of Design in Providence.

Peter Kane, 143 Loomis Court: You won't like this, but I'm going to work for the Packet this summer and then on to Harvard to study political science.

Edna Cipelli, 44 Pine Street: I'll be working for Albridge C. Smith III, a lawyer, this summer. After that I plan to take a secretarial course at the Katherine Gibbs School in New York City.

Douglas Mikram, Belle Mead: This summer I'll be a life guard at Long Beach Island on Barnegat Lake. In the fall I plan to go to Harvard College, a forestry school in North Carolina where I hope to study animal husbandry.

Ruth Boroski, Berrian Avenue, Princeton Junction: I'm going to attend the Meyers School of Beauty Culture in Trenton this summer to become a beautician, which I plan to make my career.

Jack Hawkins, 88 Longview Drive: What I do this summer will depend a great deal on what school I go to in the fall. I've been accepted to West Chester on a probationary basis and if I decide to go there it means my going to summer school. I've also been accepted at Princeton University but I haven't yet made up my mind just what I'll do.

Virginia N. Corbett, Bear Brook Road, Princeton Junction: I'm going to be a counselor at the YMCA camp for children 6 to 8 at the Hun School this summer. Then I'm going to Randolph Macdon Women's College in Lynchburg, Va., which is one of the top ten women's schools in the country but no one seems to know about it.

Dave Kilgour, 228 State Road, PHS football captain: I'm working as a counselor at Camp Pocquarash this summer and in the fall I plan to go out for football at Bowdoin College.

Flora Wood, 173 Jefferson Road: I'm working at the Firestone Library this summer. I'm going to enter West Virginia Wesleyan College in Buckhannon in the fall to study home economics, which I plan to teach.

Bill Graft, 125 Bayview Lane: This summer I'm working at the Crestmont Inn in Eagles Mere, Pa. Next fall I'm going to Paul Smith's to study hotel management.

Elaine Osborne, 28 Marion Road West: I have a job at the Tax Institute on Nassau Street for the summer. I plan to go to Upsala College and become an elementary teacher.

Loanne Brodenberg, 137 Jefferson Road: I plan to work for the Gallup Organization in their office this summer. In the fall, I'm going to enter Paul Smith's, a junior college in New York, to study forestry.

Margaret DeRiso, 75 Patton Avenue: I hope to get a job in New York City for the summer. After that I'm going to study art at Cooper Union.

Bill Conger, 71 Riverside Drive: Next fall, college — Maryville in Tennessee, as a psychology major. This summer I'm working on a dude ranch in New Mexico, where I'll be taking care of about 30 horses.

Graciele Seavy, Edgemere Avenue, Plainsboro: I'll be working at Walker Gordon as a lab technician this summer. This fall I'm entering Pratt Institute, majoring in professional foods to become a dietitian.

Michael McLean, Lawrenceville Road: Right now I'm in the process of looking for a summer job. In the fall, I plan to enter Lafayette and study political science.

Janice Saeor, Belle Mead: First I'm going on a four-day canoe trip down the Delaware. Then I'm going to Camp Sacajawea, a girl scout camp in north Jersey where I'm an assistant waterfront director. Then on to Douglass College in the fall where I'd like to major in biology and physical education.

Dae Dommasch, Elawenweg: I have no definite plans for the summer as yet. I'm going to study engineering at NYU in the fall.

Kathleen Clark, 151 Washington Road: I'm working as a waitress at the shore this summer to earn money for college. I plan on becoming a Spanish teacher and will enter Montclair State Teacher's College in the fall.

Chris Bettes, 66 Rollingmead: I have a baby sitting job that will last all summer. I plan to enter Douglass in the fall.

Susan Terhune, 19 Greenwood Avenue, Hopewell: I plan to work for the summer but I'm not sure where yet. In the fall, I hope to attend Berkeley School, a secretarial school in East Orange.

CRACKDOWN ORDERED

On Parking Zone Violators. Chief of Police Raymond A. Mondone has ordered the police to crackdown on loading zone and meter violations being practiced by drivers of commercially-licensed and service vehicles throughout the Borough.

Commercial vehicles are exempted from paying parking meters for a reasonable time for loading and unloading, as are service vehicles whose drivers are performing services "vital to the health and welfare of the community."

But, according to Chief Mondone, a careful study has revealed that many businessmen are parking their cars in loading zones and other restricted areas and using them as their own "private parking yard."

"Too often, we find a truck driver in a restaurant drinking a cup of coffee," Chief Mondone added, "unconcerned over the fact that his truck is tying up a loading zone and prohibiting its use by other trucks. The same is true of professional men, who are abusing their privilege of not having to pay parking fees," he declared.

LEGION PLANS FIREWORKS

For July 4, Nathaniel McKee is chairman of the fireworks display, scheduled for July 4 by Princeton Post 76, American Legion, Evan T'Orio, who has presented the display for the last 15 years, will again be in charge.

Over 100 different ground and aerial displays will be seen at Palmer Stadium. The community band will furnish music before dark with Post 458 providing a marching unit.

YWCA NAMES MRS. McVEY

As Day Camp Director. The YWCA has announced the appointment of Mrs. Edward D. McVey of 225-D Hasley Street as director of the YWCA Day Camp to be held July 11—August 12.

The camp is for girls 6 to 12. A 1961 graduate of McGill University in Canada, Mrs. McVey is currently reaching physical education in the public school system in Trenton. She has taught physical education in schools in Canada and the United States, spending her summers working with children in camps. In 1966 she was director of the YWCA Day Camp in Kingston, Ontario.

Describing her plans for the Day Camp, Mrs. McVey said the program would include: arts and crafts based on nature subjects, swimming instruction, nature projects, trips, story plays, cook-outs, and group singing. There will be one counselor for every eight girls and one unit leader for every 24.

The Day Camp is divided into three two-week sessions: July 11-22, July 23-August 5, and 6-19. Parents may register their children now at the "Y" Building on Avilon Place, week days between 9 and 5. Additional information may be obtained by calling the Y.

WOMAN'S CLUB ORGANIZED

To Promote Community Welfare. The Woman's Club of Princeton has been organized to bring together those who desire to promote the welfare of the community through civic, educational and philanthropic activities. The Club will become a member of the State and General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Membership is open to all women who will cooperate with the

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES 306

In First Outdoor Exercises. A senior class of 306 Princeton High School students was graduated Thursday night in the first outdoor commencement in 24 years. The ceremonies, scheduled for Wednesday night, were postponed because of rain.

In his commencement address, Graham Rohrer, president of the Borough Board of Education, reminded the class of its historic position as the largest graduating class in the school's history and the first class of the new decade.

"Be an 'intellectual skin-diver,' the kind of person who likes to go to the bottom of things," Mr. Rohrer told the graduates. "Do that, and you open up new frontiers of interest and excitement. But don't forget to come up for air... Give breadth and scope to your learning by penetrating into those areas beyond your immediate and natural interests."

Mr. Rohrer also urged the seniors to pay special attention to the events shaping community, national and international life. He suggested that the graduates read about these events, not only because of the necessity of knowing what is going on, but "because it's fun to find out things — especially when you don't have to take an examination on them."

"An informed citizen is the core of democracy," Mr. Rohrer said. "But the information must be molded into a point of view, a personal point of view. Reach your own conclusions... reasoned decisions, flexible decisions. Amend them as you will, reverse them if your judgment so orders. And then be prepared to 'stand up and be counted.'"

Members of the graduating class are as follows:

NEW ICE CREAM FOR PHS

Abbotts Out, Consumers In. Ice cream for Princeton High School students next year will not be supplied by Abbotts Dairy, which has held the concession since the school was built over a quarter of a century ago. Consumers Ice Cream submitted the low bid and was awarded the contract at last week's meeting of the Borough Board of Education.

Consumers, which has moved into several surrounding school districts, reportedly forced a bid on the concession, which has regularly gone to Abbotts without objection. The Board accepted its low bid, as required by law.

The Board also appointed Douglas Coulter, who is presently teaching at East Orange High School, to teach history in the High School. In addition, to re-appointed Irving Morrison as secretary of the Board and Mrs. Kathleen James, assistant secretary.

This course is very popular with serious students who are anxious to improve their school grades and to obtain maximum preparation for college board and other types of entrance examinations.

ELEMENTARY READING

3 two-hour sessions each week
This course emphasizes phonics and sight vocabulary and other methods of word perception, paragraph comprehension, phrase reading, vocabulary building. All children meet in small groups according to reading level.

MATHEMATICS

We believe that all students should develop a high degree of skill in applying arithmetic to a wide variety of problems. That many do not is shown by the low scores made by many seniors in the problem-solving part of the "College Boards." All of our mathematics courses include some arithmetic. All courses are planned to develop a logical approach to problem-solving and to develop facility in applying mathematical processes accurately.

BASIC ARITHMETIC

for students in grades 1-6

Obituaries

Dr. Harvey Hewitt-Thayer, 87, of 32 Chambers Street, died of heart disease last Thursday at Princeton Hospital. A Professor Emeritus of Modern Languages at Princeton University, he was one of the original "preceptor guys" brought to the University by Woodrow Wilson and served as a member of the faculty for 34 years prior to his retirement in 1943.

Before being appointed a preceptor at Princeton in 1905 to help initiate the preceptorial method of instruction, he taught at the University of Maine, St. Louis Normal and High School and Pratt Institute, Brooklyn. He held Bachelor's degrees from both Bowdoin College and Harvard University and earned his Doctor's degree from Columbia University the year before he came to Princeton.

Dr. Hewitt-Thayer served in the First World War, rising to the rank of Captain. He returned to Princeton in 1919 to become, successively, assistant professor, associate professor, professor and, in 1936, chairman of the Department of Modern Languages. His publications include "Lawrence Sterne in Germany" and "The Modern German Novel," as well as "Grete Minde" and "An Anthology of German Literature in the Nineteenth Century," both of which he edited.

Born in 1873, he was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry O. Thayer. Surviving is a niece, Mrs. Blanchard Bates of 10 College Road.

The Rev. Francis C. Huntington officiated at the service at Trinity Church. Burial was in Riverside Cemetery, South Fair, Me.

William G. Kerr, 93, who lived with his daughter, Mrs. Mildred K. Nuzdalo, at 23 Union Street, Kingston, died Saturday in Somerset Hospital. Husband of the late Nora Lane Kerr, he is also survived by a son, Thomas A. of Hingham, Mass.; two sisters, Mrs. J. J. Keller of Staten Island, and Mrs. J. E. Cardiff of Den- ville; eight grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

The Rev. Francis C. Huntington of Trinity Church officiated at the service at the Kimble Funeral Home. Interment was at the convenience of the family.

Mrs. Sarah M. Kerney, 84, of Elm Ridge Road, Pennington, died suddenly at her home June 18. The widow of Judge James Kerney, she had been president and publisher of The Times News- paper of Trenton since her husband's death in 1934.

Mrs. Kerney was born in Trenton on June 21, 1876, the daughter of the late Thomas and Mary Mullen. She was active in many charitable enterprises in the Trenton area.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. R. George Kuser of Lawrenceville; Mrs. Henry Welling of Trenton and Mrs. J. Robert McNeil of Lawrenceville; three sons, Thomas L. and James J., both of Lawrenceville, and John E. of Princeton; 21 grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren.

BUSINESS In Princeton

SEEKS PRINCETON SITE
Will Eonl Fira, Princeton Electronics Corporation, a new firm devoted to research and to the manufacture of transistors, will seek a variation from the Township zoning ordinance so that it can set up a pilot plant in the brick building now owned and occupied by Skillman Furniture at 178 Alexander Street.

The company hopes to lease the 400-square-foot building for about a year while its officers search for a permanent site in Princeton Township. In the pilot plant, Princeton Electronics would work out methods and experimental procedures and do a small amount of manufacturing. At first, about 20 would be employed, but after the new plant is built, about 75 employees might be involved in company operations, according to one estimate.

Princeton Electronics is an offshoot of a parent company, but has been completely divorced from the original group. Its principal backer is an alumnus of Princeton University, but not a resident of Princeton, whose identity has not been disclosed. He and his colleagues chose Princeton Township because of its proximity to other research firms, the University, New York and Philadelphia.

An appearance before the Township Zoning Board, scheduled for next Monday, has been postponed and the group is expected to ask for a special meeting. The Township Planning Board has given its blessing to the enterprise.

The Zoning Board has power only to recommend a use variance to Township Committee. If it is granted, this will tide the group over until Committee can draw up and pass an amendment to the zoning ordinance which will allow light industry in the Township.

This sentiment, which was to have been introduced Monday night, has been set aside while Committee members seek technical advice on smoke control, decibel count and so on. It is possible that an Engineering Board of Review will be established to advise on technical matters. This Board would be composed of electrical, chemical, and sound and production engineers who would set up general safeguards, and would act as advisors to the Zoning Board.

The Township's new committee, established last month to seek out companies that might like Township sites, has not met so far; however, several companies have been sending out queries about the possibilities of locating in the Township. It is expected that the new light industry amendment will be introduced at the July 5 meeting of Township Committee.

If a use variance is granted and Princeton Electronics leases the Skillman building, the furniture company would conduct its business from the Alexander Street warehouse.

CHAPIN DRESS SHOP SOLD
New Name Planned. When Miss Jeane Bowers takes over the Mary Chapin Shop on July 1, she will change the name formally to The Hay and Clover Shop. The specialty shop at 217 Nassau will continue to carry the same lines in casual and country clothes, and will add more from time to time.

Miss Bowers, a native of Portersville, N.J., comes to the retail dress business from a year and a half as teacher in the Walter D. Matheny School for cerebral palsy victims in Peapack. Previous work in hospitals and with children had led her to the Peapack Institution. She had also spent half a year in modeling school following a course of study at Georgetown Visitation Junior College in Washington, D.C., and a year in France.

Mary Chapin opened her Princeton shop three years ago. She will keep her main shop in Wood Glen, N.J., following completion of the sale to Miss Bowers. The new owner learned of the availability of the Princeton shop because she had been a customer of Mrs. Chapin's in Wood Glen.

STEELE NAMED DIRECTOR
Of Japanese RCA Laboratory. Dr. Martin C. Steele of 185 Clover Lane, a physicist on the staff of RCA Laboratories, has been appointed Director of Research of a new research laboratory to be established by RCA in Japan. Dr. Steele is now in Japan to formulate plans for the new research operation.

The organization will be known as Laboratories RCA, Inc., Tokyo, and is the second such laboratory established abroad by RCA. The first was opened in 1955 at Zurich, Switzerland. Fundamental studies in the physics and chemistry of solids will be conducted at the new laboratory.

The Tokyo lab will be staffed initially by several scientists to be recruited from among Japanese university students, expanding when required by the growth of the research program. "We look forward to the free interchange of basic research results between Laboratories RCA,"

FUND NAMES DIRECTOR
Sterling Will Serve. G. Dykeman Sterling, has been elected to the board of directors of the Nassau Fund, whose offices are at 10 Nassau Street. Mr. Sterling is vice-president for administration and treasurer of Educational Testing Service.

A graduate and former trustee of Williams College, from which he received his diploma in 1929, Mr. Sterling was for 30 years with the investment counsel firm of Scudder, Stevens and Clark in New York. Moving to Princeton two years ago from northern New Jersey, he is a trustee of the United Community Fund.

Report from THE MAYOR

Special Meeting Held. Mayor and Council met briefly last Thursday in special session to complete action on the Lafayette Road ordinance and to adopt two resolutions with respect to construction on Franklin Avenue and bids for street materials. Upon adjournment of the meeting, Council met informally with Mayor and Councilman Lou Calvino and our own consultant planner, Dodd McHugh, to hear about various proposals for streets and roads under study outside Borough limits but which would have considerable effect upon the Borough's traffic patterns.

It seemed obvious that Mayor and Council would take a dim view of any proposals to widen Harrison Street in the Borough. Such action, most members felt, would serve to increase speed, complicate an already difficult safety situation, and seriously affect the residential character of the neighborhood. It was generally agreed that the Nassau-Harrison intersection should be studied to try to find a satisfactory way of easing the present rush-hour bottlenecks there.

A Welcome Letter. The Mayor has received the pleasant news from the Princeton Theological Seminary that its Board of Trustees has agreed to an increase in the current year's contribution to the Borough. In his letter, the new President, Dr. James I. McCord, added this note: "Let me thank you for the many services that the Seminary receives from the Borough. It is a joy for me to be a citizen of your city."

Mayor and Council through the Finance Committee have also asked the Westminster Choir College and Princeton University to review their contributions to the Borough in the light of our increased costs and other factors.

An Act Of Citizenship. On Monday of this week, a well-known Princetonian dropped by at Borough Hall seeking the opportunity to register to vote. The significant thing about this item of Borough business is that Monday was the very day that this "new" voter had been granted citizenship. Congratulations to Dean Ernest Gordon of Princeton University for setting an important example for those of us citizens who take the voting privilege for granted and who often need to be reminded to register for it and to exercise it.

Special Events. It was again the Mayor's privilege last week to take part as a representative of the town in Princeton University's impressive commencement. Also, on Thursday, the Mayor enjoyed the opportunity to speak to a gathering of teachers of local government from colleges and universities throughout the East. Meeting at the University of Pennsylvania, the teachers were brought together in hopes of persuading larger numbers of qualified and interested students to consider local government service as their careers.

Westward. For the first time, the Mayor did not schedule the "Tell It to the Mayor!" session at Borough Hall. These informal meetings will resume, however, as soon as we return from the transcontinental journey that began this week. Acting Mayor Lester is in charge.

ADVERTISING VOLUME is based on results. That's why TOWN TOPICS carries more classified advertising each week in the year than all other Princeton papers combined.

Ivy Record: .608

Princeton athletic teams were victorious in approximately three of every five meetings with the seven other members of the Ivy League during the academic year just ended. The Tigers' 1959-60 percentage against these opponents was .608, showing 64 triumphs, 41 defeats and a lone tie.

Columbia proved the most frequent victim of Orange and Black teams, followed by Dartmouth and Brown. In contrast, the Tigers were held exactly even by their closest rivals, Harvard and Yale.

Princeton victories and defeats against Ivy colleges:

W.	L.	T.	Pct.
Brown	5	4	0 .667
Columbia	11	3	0 .786
Cornell	9	6	0 .600
Dartmouth	9	3	0 .750
Harvard	8	8	1 .500
Penn	9	7	0 .563
Yale	10	10	0 .500
Totals	64	41	1 .608

A PAIR OF FINE PITCHERS: Russ Watson, (right), who hurled for Plainboro, and Harry Kahn, ace of the Sportsmen's pitching staff. For results of their tight battle last week and other games in the Men's Softball League, see page 27.

There were a full share of surprises during the afternoon, greatest of which was the fourth-place finish achieved by Brown. Crew is not even recognized as an official sport at the Rhode Island university.

The Bruins' ability to lead two of the co-favorites, Penn and Cornell, across the finish in the three-mile race was a real eye-opener. So was Rutgers' seventh place; the Scarlet (with Brown) thus recorded its first triumph over Princeton in the sport.

Best showing of the day for the troubled Tigers was credited to the freshmen, who were fifth in a ten-acre field. The jayvees, on the other hand, could best only weak Columbia, eight other crews leading them across the line.

SEASON'S END NOTES

Whitehouse Worth Watching. Indications point to the fact that Princeton's baseball team is developing its best lineup in ten years. He is rangy Jack Whitehouse, an Andover product, who made extreme progress during the season and won the Coach's Cup for greatest progress shown.

by a sophomore. Belief is that he will be the best here since Jim Fairchild, who played Triple A ball for the Braves after graduating a decade ago.

A .313 batting average in the Eastern League made him Princeton's top entry in this department, while his nine rbi's in as many games tied him for the league leadership with Army's John Schmidt. In the final game against Yale, Whitehouse, a left-handed swinger, went four for four against southpaw pitching. In the field, he is possessed of an unusually strong arm and increasing ability to come up with the ball stamps him as a fine all-around prospect.

Despite a league batting average of only .200, Mike Ippolito's all-around play gained him an outfield berth on the all-star team chosen by the coaches. He was the lone Princetonian named to either the first or the second nines.

Four Princeton players were chosen on the all-Ivy team in lacrosse, three others placed on the second team and another—Continued on Page 26

ROUTINE YEAR ENDS

But Tigers Won Four Titles. As far as the won-loss averages for the college year just ended go, Princeton's variety athletic teams failed to distinguish themselves. In fact, their combined mark of .537 is nine percentage points lower than the .546 which went into the record books 12 months ago.

On an overall basis, Princeton won 157 contests in which it took part at the varsity level. Defeats totaled 135, while there were two ties.

Bonanza in Basketball. The fascinating stretch run staged by Captain's basketball team, a drive that took it from last place to first, was easily the high point of the year. Whereas his veteran quintet of the winter of 1959 lost its bid for the Ivy title in an overtime, post-season contest, the relatively inexperienced team that Captain Jim Brangan headed won the championship on the last day of the regular season.

Ferris Thomson kept an Ivy title for the Tigers which his lacrosse team has now won four years running. As in the case of basketball, this was achieved despite heavy losses by graduation, the Tigers following a rocky road that brought the league championship on the last day of the season.

The year's top won-loss records were both credited to John Conroy, who also acquired the Eastern Intercollegiate Squash championship for Princeton. His squash team compiled a fine 8-1 mark, losing only to Harvard, while his tennis team won 11 and was beaten only by Yale.

The fourth title to come Princeton's way during the past year was the epee championship in the Eastern Fencing Intercollegiate. Stanley Seja's team, 7-3 on the season, also tied with Columbia for the Ivy championship.

TIGERS TRAIL IN ROWING finish Tenth at Syracuse. As California won the Intercollegiate Rowing Regatta on Lake Onondaga at Syracuse Saturday, Princeton placed tenth in the 12-crew field. The Tigers finished ahead only of Wisconsin and Columbia; last year, they were ninth in a field of 21.

three drew honorable mention.
First team selections included
Cookie Krongard, goalie; Jack Horton, defender; Phil Allen, mid-field; and Bob Milling, attack.
Dick Edmunds placed fifth in the 400-meter run in the NCAA championships Saturday at Berkeley, Calif., with a 46.6 clocking—nine-tenths of a second off the pace. He thus qualified for the Olympic Trials to be held at Stanford July 1 and 2. However, Ed Thurber could not make it in the javelin, six entries all turning in performances better than his top effort of some 223 feet.

THIS NINE HONORED
With Banquet, Trophies.
Through donations from Princeton merchants, the 1960 Princeton High School baseball team, first Little Tiger nine to win the Central Jersey Group III Championship, was given a banquet last week at the Grotto Restaurant.
Joseph Jincroli, head football coach at PHS, was the guest speaker.

Coach Harry Zoll, in a brief speech, had nothing but praise for the team. He recalled that the plan he and the squad had made the first day of practice was "to win the title." He went on to point out that major league scouts who had seen the Blue and White during its three tournaments, was, praised it for
"teamwork, fine sportsmanship and refusal to give up when behind."

Jack Lackey, captain of the Little Tigers, who won all three tournament games, striking out 42 in the process, expressed his thanks and respect to his teammates for their cooperation and fine play. He also thanked Coach Zoll for his outstanding leadership, for providing the inspiration and determination to win, for being the "sparkplug" of the team.

Trophies were awarded to each member of the championship team. Coach Zoll was given a trophy and a plaque for his fine coaching effort. The team and Zoll then agreed to meet again
10 years from now for another celebration.

Present at the dinner were Coach Zoll, Captain Lackey, Jack
Hawkins, Ray Cranston, Boyd
Bergen, Bruce Sandvick, Archie Freeman, Dick Olsen, Rick Hurford, Alan Wood, Ed King, Chris Tindall, Marty McGuinn, Harry Steen, John Rogovin, and managers Marty Lombardo and Russ Eldridge.

SPORTSMEN TRIMMED

But Retain League Lead. A fine two-hit shutout credited to Russ Watson of Plainboro last Thursday gave his team a 2-0 triumph over the league-leading Sportsmen. The victors pushed a pair of runs across in the second in defeating Harry Kahny, who yielded six hits in all.

Faced with a chance to narrow the gap, however, Plainboro dropped a 3-1 decision on Tuesday to Green Gables. Joe Fisher picked up the win on late-inning rallies by his mates. The Sportsmen were idle with a bye that evening.

Teague's and Sannino's each added a game in the victory column. The former started fast to trim Circle Esso, 10-5, while Sannino's edged Leo's Rural Service, 7-5. Sam List homered for the losers in that game.

Circle Esso broke even for the week by routing Green Gables, 12-5, largely on the strength of a couple of four-run innings. The losers were charged with six errors. (For a list of future games, see Calendar of the Week.)

HOME SEASON TO BEGIN

FOR PAC This Thursday. The summer baseball season will begin here this Thursday evening at 6:15 when the Princeton Athletic Club opposes Hightstown-Cranbury on the high school diamond. Steve Hogarty, whose father, Jim, was a standout for Princeton teams of other years, is the PAC manager. Montgomery Township spoiled the Princetonians' bid for a successful start Tuesday night, beating them, 5-0. John Mitchell, Boston College hurler, and Vince McCard, a student at Andover, shared the pitching assignment for the losers.

A pair of unearned runs in the first put the victors ahead, and they added two less tainted tallies in the fifth and another in the sixth—all on a total of five hits. PAC was held in a pair of singles by Gary Grover and one by Joe Chilbro while committing three errors.

Hightstown-Cranbury ranks as a strong entry in the Tri-County League. In its opener, the combined nine white-washed South Brunswick, 7-0.

NOW IS THE TIME...

In the timely discussion on what our "National Purpose" should be, now being conducted by the New York Times and Life, Clinton L. Rossiter, III, Professor of Government and Chairman of that Department at Cornell*, in his recent article listed four crises confronting us.

Professor Rossiter writes that the fourth crisis—that of war and peace—"presents this nation with its most fateful challenge to greatness . . . in the yearning of mankind to be done with wars and rumors of wars and to build up the conditions of a secure and beautiful peace—we will find, if we are ever to find it at all," a renewed sense of national purpose . . . Several considerations make this choice as appealing as it is inevitable.

First, the challenge of peace looms above the others in present urgency and future import. No purpose of the American people could be more pressing than that of forestalling a savage war that all participants and spectators are certain to lose. The achievement of this purpose would give us first rank among all nations in the histories of the future . . . We brought ourselves virtually unaided to the center of the stage of history, and we will fail all mankind as well as ourselves if we do not act greatly upon it.

Second, this challenge seems much the best calculated to UNITE the nation. No other problem directs itself so immediately to very American; no other calls for sacrifices from every man and woman in due proportion; no other holds out a richer reward to every group and interest and section . . .

Finally, the challenge of peace calls upon us to deal not just with ourselves but with all mankind, and thus throws our self-awareness as a nation into sharper focus. A sense of national purpose is at bottom a sense of international purpose . . .

In Professor Rossiter's opinion, "IT HAS NOW BECOME THE DESTINY OF THIS NATION TO LEAD THE WORLD PRUDENTLY AND PRAGMATICALLY—STEP BY STEP, PACT BY PACT, CONCESSION BY CONCESSION—THROUGH COOPERATION TO CONFEDERACY TO FEDERATION AND AT LAST TO A GOVERNMENT HAVING POWER TO ENFORCE PEACE.

There is little doubt that the world is moving fitfully in this direction and the highest nation should show the way rather than drag its feet . . . While the process may and should take several generations . . . the ultimate goal and our responsibility for leading the way toward it must never be lost from sight . . .

Let us labor, then, in the world at large—in the United Nations, in the World Court, in conferences at Geneva, in the reach into space, in the dozen great ventures in which we have already begun to surrender some aspect of our pristine sovereignty—with this lofty purpose in mind."

*Professor Rossiter received his Ph.D from Princeton in 1942.
